

Unlocking Potential

Partner with one of our FranklinCovey Coaches to increase your productivity, personal effectiveness, and maximize your leadership skills.

What is Leader in Me Executive Coaching?

Executive Coaching is a one-on-one coaching partnership with a district or school-based leader established for the purpose of unlocking personal and/or professional potential, jointly achieving critical personal and organizational goals.

The FranklinCovey Coach will partner with you in a thought-provoking and creative process that helps you break through barriers and focus on the actions necessary to achieve your desired results as a leader.

You can expect to:

- Increase your performance at highest capacity, successfully aligning with organizational goals
- Increase your self-awareness, self-trust and relational trust
- Develop your ability to leverage unique talents for increased effectiveness with your team
- Reconnect to your professional and/or personal mission
- Strengthen your ability to identify and overcome leadership challenges impacting LiM implementation

Package includes six one-hour calls.

In the first call, the FranklinCovey Coach and Client co-create the coaching relationship, design the schedule and establish agreements for the overall coaching engagement as well as those for each coaching session.

You can expect your FranklinCovey Coach to:

- Empower you to own your data
- Maintain the process and the accountability structures
- Honor you as the expert in your own life, partnering with you to increase awareness in the area of focus
- Develop and maintain a mindset that is open, curious, flexible and client-oriented
- Elicit client-generated solutions and strategies that can help to remove barriers

We believe:

People are naturally creative, resourceful and whole, and they can develop their own answers and solutions when guided into a space of increased awareness and evaluation.
