Sean Covey is a global education leader, business executive, bestselling author, and keynote speaker with a passion for helping people and organizations unlock their potential. As Chief Product Officer of FranklinCovey and Global Education Practice Leader, he leads the continued development of Leader in Me®, a whole-school transformation model that is now in more than 8,000 schools across 70+ countries, as well as FranklinCovey's Enterprise Solutions.

A #1 Wall Street Journal and New York Times bestselling author, Sean has sold over 10 million copies of his books, including The Leader in Me, The 4 Disciplines of Execution, The 7 Habits of Highly Effective Teens, The 7 Habits of Happy Kids, and The 6 Most Important Decisions You'll Ever Make. His work has been translated into more than 30 languages and is used by students, schools, and organizations across the globe.

Sean is a dynamic speaker known for connecting with audiences of all kinds—from students to CEOs—bringing a message that is both practical and inspiring. He regularly speaks on leadership, school transformation, culture, and goal achievement, and his work has been featured in major media outlets worldwide.

Sean Covey is a Harvard MBA and former BYU quarterback who led his team to two bowl games. He is the cofounder of Bridle Up Hope, a nonprofit dedicated to inspiring hope, confidence, and resilience in young women through equestrian training. Sean and his wife, Rebecca, cherish time with their children and grandchildren.
