

Impact Journey Overview

Empowering Instruction 1: Nurturing a “We Learn” Culture

The focus on empowering paradigms and practices, trusting relationships, and student-led learning will help educators adopt a “We learn,” rather than “I teach” mindset.

The deepest and most powerful learning happens through active engagement with content coupled with reflection.

END IN MIND

At the end of the day, participants should be able to:

- Commit to releasing more learning to students (affective).
- Create a plan to modify current classroom routines to nurture greater student ownership of the classroom culture and classroom learning.
- Plan learning experiences using the Empowered-Learning Approach (3i), leading to greater and more frequent student-led learning.
