

Impact Journey Overview

Family Engagement: The Learning Team Approach

Increase family engagement with breakthrough thinking and tools to elevate your school's performance.

“Many approaches to family engagement stay very theoretical while this one actually takes leaders and teachers to tools, action plans, and next steps for this important work.” — Principal, Colorado

END IN MIND

During this Impact Journey, participants will develop the mindset, knowledge, skills, and tools needed to take parent engagement in their schools to a new level by:

- Embracing new paradigms of family engagement.
- Determining their school/classroom/work area family engagement gap.
- Utilizing concepts and strategies that enable teachers and staff to increase parent engagement.
- Creating an action plan to close the family engagement gap.
- Providing a richer learning environment through the creation of learning teams.
- Nurturing and developing the whole child alongside parents and partners.

LEARNING TARGETS

- 1 I can embrace the paradigm, “Educators and families partner to develop the whole person,” using the Learning Team to partner with parents.
- 2 I can assess the current level of family engagement at our school, identifying key drivers and restrainers to full engagement.
- 3 I can help families become fully engaged as effective members of the Learning Team.
- 4 I can develop the whole student as the core of the Learning Team.
