Full Service Community Schools & FranklinCovey Education

The Full-Service Community Schools model aligns to the student, family, and staff offerings of FranklinCovey Education.

- Leader in Me: An evidence-based, comprehensive PK-12 model that builds leadership and life skills in students and lays the foundation for sustained academic achievement.
- The 7 Habits of Highly Effective Families: Family engagement through leadership events, student-led conferences, and workshops creates a nurturing environment for all family members.
- Professional Development and Coaching for Staff: Empowering staff through shared purpose and effective approaches develops a cohesive school culture.

4 Pillars of Full-Service Community Schools

Integrated Student Supports

To provide and coordinate a range of on-site services and supports to overcome both academic and nonacademic barriers to students' educational and life success.

Expanded & Enriched Learning Time & Opportunities

To support student-focused instruction and increase learning time to include arts, physical activity, intensive academic support, and hands-on learning activities.

Active Family & Community Engagement

To foster relationships of trust and respect, build the capacity of all stakeholders and the school, create empowered decision-making processes, and leverage resources and expertise to address educational inequities.

Collaborative Leadership & Practices

To develop a shared vision and goals and create participatory practices for distributing responsibilities, by leveraging the collective expertise of all school, family, and community stakeholders.
